Home is Where the Light Is

Apollo Corfu sits on flat, level ground in Messonghi, wrapped in 45,000m² of gardens and centuries-old olive trees. There are no steps, no slopes, and no hills to climb between your room, the pools, and the beach — everything sits on the same easy level, which makes it simple to move around with a pram, a wheelchair, or just tired feet after a day in the sun. It's part of why families with young children and grandparents travelling together find it especially comfortable here.

The name comes from Apollo, the god of the sun — a light that falls the same way on everyone. That idea, “Home is where the light is,” is what the resort is built around: a warm, unpretentious place that feels like a home you return to, not a hotel you pass through.

Highlights

- Flat resort layout — no steps, no slopes, safe and easy for children and all ages
- 45,000m² of gardens and century-old olive trees
- Four restaurants under one culinary vision, led by Michelin-starred chef Ettore Botrini
- The Apollo Organic Farm — a working farm guests can walk, and taste from
- Rooms from Deluxe Doubles to Grand Family Suites with private pool

Dining

Grown Here. Served Here.

Vegetables picked that morning at the Apollo Bio-Farm reach Chef Ettore Botrini's kitchen at Coryfo before noon — the shortest distance between soil and table on the island.

One Stay. Four Tables.

Half-board and all-inclusive guests dine freely across four restaurants — Coryfo by Ettore Botrini, Asador Farm to Flame, Soleni, and La Cantina Ristorante — as part of the Dine Around programme, one kitchen vision led by Chef Ettore Botrini.

- Coryfo by Ettore Botrini — the resort's gastronomic tavern, serving creative Greek and Corfiot cuisine
- Asador Farm to Flame — grilled dishes made with vegetables picked that morning at the Bio-Farm
- La Cantina Ristorante (Italian) — à la carte, pizza and pasta
- Soleni — the main restaurant, Greek and international buffet

The Garden and the Bio-Farm

The garden isn't a backdrop — it's part of daily life at the resort, with shaded paths guests walk every day between the rooms, the restaurants and the pools. The Apollo Bio-Farm sits within it, growing the herbs, vegetables and fruit that reach the kitchen the same day. Guests are welcome to walk the farm and see what's growing.

Made for Families

Two children's pools with waterslides sit right alongside the main pools, and the WorldWide Kids (WWK) programme runs structured, age-appropriate activities every day. Between the water park, the playground, Kidventures at the Apollo Bio Farm, and the Mini Disco each evening, there's always something for younger guests to do.

Rooms

Eight room categories, from 25m² Deluxe Doubles to the 60m² Grand Family Suite with private pool. Every room can take an extra bed, so families can stay together. Private pool options are available across most categories.

• Pick a Bouquet — children wander the farm choosing their own flowers, colours and combinations to create a handmade bouquet for their room

• Build a Scarecrow, Paint a Pumpkin & Paint the Hives — children build their own scarecrow from straw and old clothes, paint a pumpkin freely with no rules, and add their own splash of colour to the farm's wooden beehives

• Harvest Day — children fill their own baskets with seasonal produce straight from the farm, from sun-warmed tomatoes to freshly picked peppers, and carry their harvest back with pride

• From Leaf to Little Pouch — inspired by the Executive Chef's own childhood memories, children gather aromatic herbs such as oregano, lavender and mint, learn how they are dried, and fill a small linen pouch to take home
